

'Movers and Shakers' Newsletter Winter 2023

No. 69

Dear all,

As we approach the end of 2023, here at Lumina Search, we can't help but reflect on what a unique and eventful year it has been. Our team has been on quite the journey, crisscrossing the globe and embarking on some unforgettable adventures. One of the highlights was our incredible trip to Saudi Arabia, where we had the privilege of spending an entire week with one of our clients. This experience allowed us to immerse ourselves in the rich culture and shared values that underpin our collaboration on a number of critical C-suite roles.

In the articles you'll find below, we explore some of the standout trends that are shaping our industry and also thrilled to share a fantastic article penned by our very own Anne Fenton, who offers valuable insights into essential C-level leadership skills.

Before we dive into the details, we want to take a moment to express our sincere thanks to all our clients. Your support and partnership have made 2023 an incredible year for us, and we're already gearing up for an exciting and busy 2024.

Steph

2024: Anticipating the Future of the Media & Entertainment Sectors

As we head into 2024, the media industry is set for a remarkable year, marked by a slew of exciting changes. However, we mustn't lose sight of the many obstacles that surrounded the industry in 2023, including economic volatility, budgetary limitations, and increasing concerns over privacy.

Read more

C-Level Leadership, how to reach the top of your career: Observations and musings from an Exec Search specialist

When I was invited to put together a few words about essential survival tips for someone aspiring to the C level, it seemed like a big ask. Where to start? It's a huge subject and difficult to convey in a few paragraphs. Having spent many hours interviewing and meeting so many talented C level execs at Lumina, there are certainly some common factors amongst those who have made it to the top. So, I've attempted to summarise some of the key points as a refresher to get readers thinking about the year ahead as we approach 2024.

Anne Fenton, Lumina Search

Read More

Placement – Edward Humphrey, Marquee TV

We at Lumina are delighted to announce the appointment of Ed Humphrey as Chief Executive Officer of Marquee TV.

As Chief Executive Officer, Ed will be responsible for setting the overall vision and the management of the resources' operations of Marquee TV.

Humphrey will develop the strategies for the company and communicate these to both an internal and external audience.

Read More

Reviving the Classics: A Deep Dive into Rebooted TV Formats

Lumina recently attended another amazing RTS event that explored the ever-growing concept of the reboot.

The renowned television formats, including Big Brother, Survivor, Gladiators, and Deal or No Deal, are making a comeback in the UK this year, returning to our screens after a significant break in one case for over 2 decades.

Full Analysis

International Movers & Shakers

Over the last decade, Lumina has tracked over 5,500 moves within the industry, all over the globe.

As we already have that information, we're more than happy to share the top Movers & Shakers since our last newsletter.

Americas

UK

EMEA & APAC

Download Full List

Download Full List

Download Full List

Media & Entertainment Executive Search

Lumina Search is a specialist search firm for the Media and Entertainment industries. We have successfully completed hundreds of searches in the UK and internationally, focusing on client and candidate experience with minimum fuss. If you are looking to fill a senior role, don't hesitate to reach out to us.

Contact Us

You received this email because you are registered to receive the Movers & Shakers newsletter from Lumina Search

Newsletter Editor: Tom Murphy

Chair: Anne Fenton

Opinions are their own, and do not express the views of Lumina Search.

Unsubscribe here

© 2023 Lumina Search